

Getting Access to Weblate

PREREQUISITE:

Before you proceed, make sure you have a Rikidar Authenticator account. If not, you can learn more here.

While anyone can see the current state of Cork's translation, you will need an additional role to contribute translations.

To get the required role:

1. Join Cork's Discord
2. During setup, pick I want to translate Cork, which will give you the required role to access the #localization channel
3. Now, you have two options:
 1. In the #localization channel, send a message describing which language you'd like to translate. For a faster response, mention `David Bureš`
 2. Write a direct message to `David Bureš` (who has the Cork Creator role) describing which language you'd like to translate
4. Wait until you hear back

Now, if approved, you will have access to Weblate, along with all the necessary permissions to start translating.
